PLAN OF THE PROPERTY

In order to license a House in Multiple Occupation, the council has to obtain certain information about the property so that it can assess the size and type of property and what amenities and installations exist.

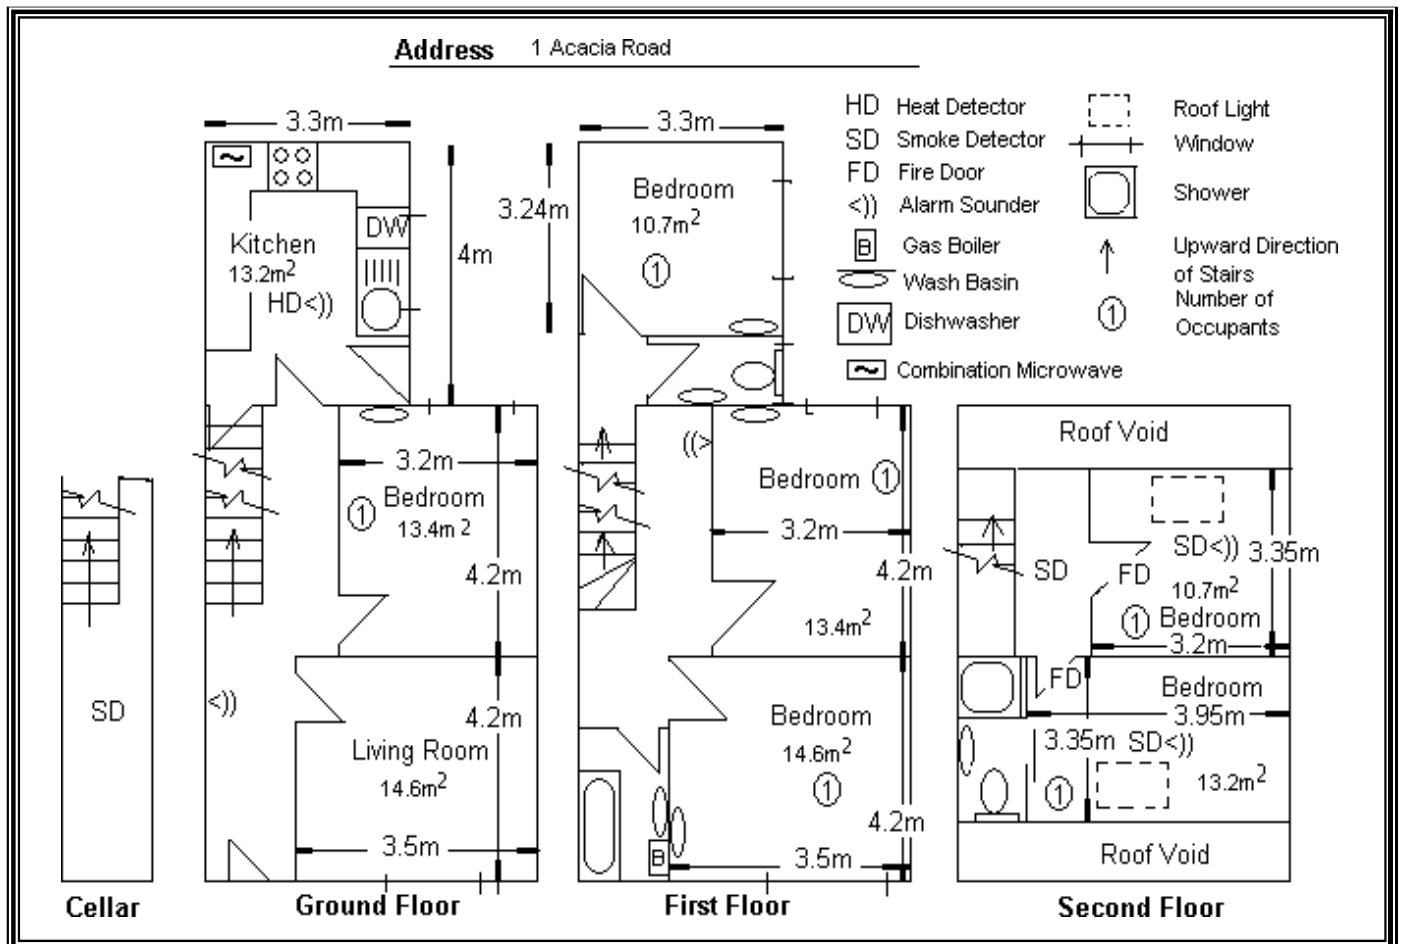

The plan must clearly show the room sizes, proportions and layout of the house, along with the location of the amenities and fire safety measures.

You can draw the plan yourself or get help if you wish, as it doesn't need to be to a professional standard, such as those required for Building Regulation approval or Planning Permission. If you already have such plans you can use them.

Your plan must contain all of the following:

- The address of the property and the date the plan was drawn
- The dimensions of the main rooms – front-to-back and side-to-side (in metres) plus an indication of the use of the rooms (for example: bedroom, living room)
- An indication of which storey is depicted (for example: Ground, First, Second)
- The location of all smoke and heat detectors, call-points (break-glass) and control panel
- The location of emergency lighting units (if provided)
- Whether the smoke and heat detectors are mains-powered or battery-operated
- Whether the smoke and heat detectors are interlinked or single point
- The position of wash hand basins, baths, showers, WCs and sink units
- The position of a fire blanket within each kitchen area
- The layout of the kitchen(s) showing work surfaces, sink units, cookers, microwave ovens, hobs, refrigerators and dishwashers
- Whether the doors are fire doors
- Name of each room
