General Information

Which HMOs need to be licenced?

Under the mandatory licencing scheme, a HMO must be licenced if:

- It is occupied by five or more persons, who live as two or more households, and
- There are shared amenities such as a kitchen, bathroom or toilet.

If your property does not meet both of the above criteria then you do not need to apply for a HMO licence.

If you are still unsure about anything, please call the Private Sector Housing Team on 01394 444506.

It is a criminal offence to knowingly supply information that is false or misleading for the purposes of obtaining a licence under Part 2 of the Housing Act 2004. Evidence of any statements made in this application with regard to the property concerned may be required at a later date. If East Suffolk Council subsequently discovers something that is relevant and which you failed to disclose in your application, or which was incorrectly stated or described in your application, the licence may be revoked, or other action taken.

If you are applying for a new licence, please complete all parts of this form. If you are applying to renew an existing licence please complete the Renewal form.

If the information on your existing HMO licence has changed for any reason, you must ask us in writing to vary it.

You will need to provide a Basic Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check with your application in relation to the Proposed Licence Holder and any Manager. This costs £25.00 per check and usually takes up to 14 days. Applications can be made through the Government website: www.gov.uk/request-copy-criminal-record

Part 1 – Address of property

1.0 Address of property to be licenced:

Part 3 – The Proposed Licence Holder

The Licence Holder will be legally responsible for the operation of the HMO to be licenced and must have the power to:

- Let to, and/or evict, tenants (in accordance with required legal procedures)
- Access all parts of the premises to the same extent as the owner
- Authorise any expenditure necessary to ensure the health and safety of the tenants and others who may be affected.

The proposed licence holder should normally be the ‘person having control’ of the property (or the person legally entitled to receive the rental income from the property, usually the owner of the property). However, there may be a good reason why this is not be the case, for instance if the owner is ill or lives abroad. The ‘person having control’ may be the leaseholder rather than the freeholder.

If the local authority decides to grant a licence, it has a duty to grant that licence to the most appropriate person.

PLAN OF THE PROPERTY

In order to license a House in Multiple Occupation, the council has to obtain certain information about the property so that it can assess the size and type of property and what amenities and installations exist.

The plan must clearly show the room sizes, proportions and layout of the house, along with the location of the amenities and fire safety measures.

You can draw the plan yourself or get help if you wish, as it doesn't need to be to a professional standard, such as those required for Building Regulation approval or Planning Permission. If you already have such plans you can use them.

Your plan must contain all of the following:

- The address of the property and the date the plan was drawn
- The dimensions of the main rooms – front-to-back and side-to-side (in metres) plus an indication of the use of the rooms (for example: bedroom, living room)
- An indication of which storey is depicted (for example: Ground, First, Second)
- The location of all smoke and heat detectors, call-points (break-glass) and control panel
- The location of emergency lighting units (if provided)
- Whether the smoke and heat detectors are mains-powered or battery-operated
- Whether the smoke and heat detectors are interlinked or single point
- The position of wash hand basins, baths, showers, WCs and sink units

Part 10 – Notification to Interested Parties that you are making a licence application

You must let certain persons know in writing that you have made this application or give them a copy of it. You can do this by completing the attached form. You will need to copy the form if notifying more than one party.

The persons who need to know about it are:

- Any mortgagee of the property to be licensed
- Any owner of the property to which the application relates (if that is not you) i.e. the freeholder and any head lessors who are known to you
- Any other person who is a tenant or long leaseholder of the property or any part of it (including any flat) who is known to you other than a statutory tenant or other tenant whose lease or tenancy is for less than three years (including a periodic tenancy)
- The proposed license holder (if that is not you)
- The proposed managing agent (if any) (if that is not you)
- Any person who has agreed that he will be bound by any condition or conditions in a license if it is granted.

You must tell each of these persons:

- your name, address telephone number and e-mail address or fax number (if any)
- the name, address, telephone number and e-mail address or fax number (if any) of the proposed license holder (if it will not be you)
- whether this is an application under Part 2 or Part 3 of the Housing Act 2004
- the address of the property to which the application relates
- the name and address of the local housing authority to which the application will be made
- the date the application will be submitted
