b) The catchment population;

SCC's libraries do not have a specific catchment – they are open to all, and therefore, they do not have a catchment population.

c) A map or other information to show how the catchment area is defined;

SCC's libraries do not have a defined catchment – they are open to all, and therefore it is not possible to provide such a map.

d) If the catchment area includes any overlap with other catchment(s), the population in overlapping areas;

SCC's libraries do not have a specific catchment area, so we are not able to provide this.

f) If the above information is now different to the information that would have been given in January 2011 please also provide the information that would have applied in January 2011 with a brief explanatory comment such as "library relocated from [old location] to [new location] on [date]" or "library opening hours increased from [date]"; and SCC does not retain historic opening hour data and therefore are not able to answer this question specifically. However, Suffolk Libraries took over the running of the library service from Suffolk County Council in 2012 and opening hours have not reduced in any location since then. In some locations, there have been small increases.

g) The number of book stock items and other items that were available to be borrowed free of charge, as of i) 2010/11 and 2018/19.

The libraries operate on a dynamic stock basis whereby the stock moves around the county and there is no set stock figures per library. Furthermore, we are not able to report on stock holdings retrospectively as any items since deleted from the catalogue would not be included.

2. For each static library in Suffolk, and for each year from and including 2010 (or 2010/11 depending on how such statistics are collected and if not whole calendar years please confirm data collection periods) to 2019 (or 2019/20) please confirm:

a) The number of active borrowers (people who have borrowed at least one item during the last year). I assume each active borrower is associated with only one library through which they are registered, but please explain the context if this is not the case; and These figures are based on people who have borrowed at least one physical item from a library during each year. People who have borrowed from more than one library will be counted within the figure for each library from which they have borrowed. We do not have figures for this prior to the 2014 / 2015 year as there was a change in library management system during the year before that.

The reporting year runs from 1st April to 31st March.
